

Leadership Compass Self-Assessment

North - Action	Checks	East - Vision	Checks
When organizing, the first thing I think about is what will the results/otucomes of the project/event be.	<input type="checkbox"/>	When organizing, the first thing I think about is what is the vision of the project/event?	<input type="checkbox"/>
For the most part, I am sure of my decisions.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I focus on the big picture of things.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I like to be in control of the situations that surround me.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am innovative and like to think outside the box.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I am quick to act and want those around me to act as well.	<input type="checkbox"/>	My ideas/plans are often based on the future.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I enjoyed being challenged by difficult situations and people.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I often think about how my choices will play out in the future.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I always ask myself what outcomes will come from my actions.	<input type="checkbox"/>	Before committing to do something, I need to understand the underlining process.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I like to work in a fast-paced environment.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I like to connect the dots (metaphorically speaking).	<input type="checkbox"/>
Even when told "no", I continue to be persistent. I believe nothing is impossible.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am most often the problem solver in the group.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I am bored by routine.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I like to create my own paths and discover new ways of doing things.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I feel comfortable being the center of attention.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I appreciate having enough information to make informed decisions.	<input type="checkbox"/>
Some of my catchphrases include "Do it now!," "I'll do it!," and "What's the bottom line?"	<input type="checkbox"/>	Some of my catchphrases include "What are my options?," "What are the possibilities?," and "I imagine..."	<input type="checkbox"/>
of Checks		# of Checks
South - Empathy	Checks	West - Analytical	Checks
When organizing, the first thing I think about is how does the group feel about the project/event?	<input type="checkbox"/>	When organizing, the first thing I think about is how will the organization go about making the project/event happen?	<input type="checkbox"/>
I understand people need to be well informed before making decisions.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I know what information people need to make decisions.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I like to listen to everyone's opinion and intergrate their ideas into the plans.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am the most dependable person in my organization.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I am a social person and use professional relationships to accomplish tasks at hand.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am helpful in my organization. For example, I can provide planning assistance and resources.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I am supportive of my fellow organization members and co-workers.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am often on top of procedures and guidelines.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I take people's feedback into high consideration.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am a logical thinker and like to use data analysis.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I trust my gut feelings.	<input type="checkbox"/>	Before making a decision, I like to think about both sides.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I believe my emotions and perspectives are to be regarded as truth.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am self-analytical.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I am a team player.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am considerate of everyone's individual needs.	<input type="checkbox"/>
For the most part, I do not like to be in competition with others.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I learn from the past in order to get the most out of my present experience.	<input type="checkbox"/>
I live in the now, I focus on today.	<input type="checkbox"/>	I am critical and am often the bearer of bad news.	<input type="checkbox"/>
Some of my catchphrases include "Is that right?" and "Is this fair?"	<input type="checkbox"/>	My catchphrase is "What is our objective?"	<input type="checkbox"/>
of Checks		# of Checks	